GOLD!!!

We had just a little business before getting right down to the fun stuff at the September meeting. We are working on a date for the 2011 Coin Show, probably a Friday/Saturday in February. Also, congratulations are in order to Harry Davis, the new director of the California State Numismatic Association!

OKTOBERFEST

It is that time of year already. Next month will feature our annual OKTOBERFEST celebrations. Polish sausage, sauerkraut, and beverages will be provided. And it is FREE to everyone who brings in and donates an item (numismatic) to our 11th Annual Helen and Roy Roberts Benefit Auction. The proceeds go to our youth members, the rent, postage, and various club costs. There will not be a regular auction for this meeting. Also, please bring a dessert to share with the club. Hmmmm, what goes well with Polish sausage.....

For those of you who never met Roy or Helen, they were long time members of the club from its early days. Roy was president at one time, and for years ran the auction. Helen was the trustworthy treasurer for decades. We fondly remember their dedication to the club and hobby each year with this auction.

We also had our 6 Month Gold Drawing early in the meeting because a few people needed to leave early. There were three gold pieces drawn this year. And the winners were:

⇒ 2-1/2 peso gold: Lee D

⇒ 1/10 ounce gold: George Q (who ironically planned to leave very early but was told to stick around for the drawing!)

⇒ 1/4 ounce gold: Martha V. Congratulations!

TYPE SETS

- ◆ Willie Q is working on a holey type set. He has a Dansco album that is filling up nicely, but still has lots of holes to fill, so to speak. He in particular would like a 20 cent piece with a hole
- ◆ Edwin H has a type set like Willie, but his are wholly whole, not holey. Holy moly!
- ◆ Phil is collecting Indian cents, and has a nearly complete set. He was recently in England, and received a 2 pound coin for change. It was a 2005 WW2 commemorative with the famous picture of the searchlights in front of St. Paul's Cathedral at the end of the war. The obverse portrays Queen Elizabeth II as always. And the edge inscription is "IN VICTORY MAGNANIMITY IN PEACE GOODWILL". 10.2 million of them were put in circulation.
- ◆ Jim C talked about an error coin type set

- ◆ Curtis Smith thanked the club for his 60th Anniversary wishes. He and Ramona apparently had quite a party with the family.
- ◆ Glen C has a type set of coins and currency from Cyprus, including some rare pattern pieces.
- ◆ Richard W – a bicentennial Dansco album
- ◆ Kurt G is putting together a type set using ANA grading standards. That can be a pretty big undertaking, it will be nice to see it when complete
- ◆ Harry D had a nice set of presidential medals featuring presidents from Washington to Nixon. They were all high relief, in a custom frame.

Speaking of WW2 commemoratives, here

COINS I WOULD LOVE TO OWN (BUT CAN NOT AFFORD)

#6

I love old coins. Early colonial and American coins are wonderful, but usually not too affordable. This particular gem is a 1794 starred reverse large cent, Sheldon variety 26. This is possibly the most famous and certainly the most desired of the 1794 varieties, shown above. The reverse die had smaller letters than the others of that year, and has an added circle of 94 five-pointed stars between the denticles. They were apparently made using engraver Joseph Wright's punch that was used on his 1792 pattern quarter dollar. Some feel it was done as an anti-counterfeit device.

My theory? Wright had an annoying apprentice in the mint with OCD (Obsessive Compulsive Disorder). He put the little bugger to work punching the stars to get him out of everybody's hair. The guy probably sang Twinkle Twinkle Little Star a lot. And probably drove everybody else nuts too. Wright died in early 1794. Coincidence? I don't think so.

Anyway, this variety is often worn and found on imperfect planchets. And every once in a while a new one turns up, as it did this month. An AU-50 specimen sold at auction 2 years ago for over $600,000. When you wish upon a star.....

This is one final tidbit of World War 2 that I discovered while searching for images for the newsletter. The coin shown below is from the USSR. Had the German army not faltered on Russia's vast expanse of land, they would have had access to large quantities of food, steel, and oil reserves. Who knows what the world would be like today if that had happened. Once the German siege of Stalingrad was broken, the momentum of the war was changed. After this point, Russian troops joined the British and Americans in a race to Berlin. Pictured is a coin commemorating the events along the Volga at Stalingrad, which occurred in the Russian city now called Volgograd.
